Chouteau Village Plan Recalls Nameoki, Pontoon

By WILLIAM F. WINTER
(First of a Series)
"The more things change, the more they stay the same." Whether history fully repeats itself could be debated, but unquestionably there is a tendency by Quad-City rural areas to form villages rather than annex to a city.

The village of Nameoki was created in 1917 and the village of Pontoon Beach was established Dec. 8, 1962. Whether the village of Chouteau is formed will be decided by voters in the western Mitchell area Feb. 6.

Another potential pattern—merger of such a municipality with a larger city—may have been started with the annexation of Nameoki to Granite City in November 1949.

However, Pontoon Beach remains in existence and has expanded. Reports of an eventual connection with the city of Madison circulated last year and were denied by some Pontoon officials.

Vandals Break Windows At Two Madison Stores

Vandals used rocks and a brick to break large windows out of Hieken's Clothing store and the Radman Furniture store in the 400 block of Madison avenue Friday night, according to a report by Madison police. Officers said they responded to an alarm sounding at the Hieken's store at 10:45 p.m. They said they found a small hole in the bottom of a 4 by 6 foot window on the north side of the building.

Officers returned to the store at 11:25 p.m. and found a second break in the window and a break in another 4 by 6 foot window. While at the store, officers noticed a large hole in the window of Radman's Furniture store across the street. They found a brick that had been thrown through the window and landed on a table, knocking over a lamp. The broken window was 5 by 10 feet, officers said.

College Admissions Officers to Visit GCHS on Jan. 29

Admission officers and representatives from more than 12 major universities and colleges will be on hand Monday evening, Jan. 29, at Granite City high school to discuss with parents and students the current requirements and advantages offered by schools of higher learning.

In announcing the annual "College Night" program, Principal Lawrence McCauley and Assistant Principal Steve Jones today urged all parents and students interested in making plans to attend college to visit the local high school and confer with the admission officers.

A general review session will take place in the high school auditorium starting at 7:30 p.m., next Monday, Jones said. The educators pointed out that early planning for college attendance is now required, with most universities and colleges accepting students at the beginning of their senior high school year.

Parents of sophomore and junior high school students are especially encouraged to participate in the special program and not leave questions unanswered until the student already is a senior, Jones stressed.

Representatives will attend from Bradley University, Peoria; Central Methodist College, Fayette, Mo.; Eastern Illinois University, Charleston; Illinois State University, Normal; Murray College, Jacksonville; Washington University, St. Louis; Southern Illinois University-Southern campus; St. Louis University; University of Illinois, Champaign - Urbana; University of Missouri at Columbia, Mo., and Blackburn College, Carlinville, Ill.

Between 600 and 700 students and parents attended last year's informative program, Jones said.

MHS Dropout Rate Cut; Reasons Cited

Madison high school had a student dropout rate of only 4% during the 1966-67 school year, and 26% of this year's graduating seniors plan to go to college, according to statistics compiled for the board of education.

Raymond Dragich, superintendent, told the board Thursday night that the national dropout average was 30%, to 35%, and that the Madison rate is better than the 5% rate boasted by the Belleville district.

Thirty-nine students dropped out of MHS during the last school year, out of an enrollment of 750 students, but all but 30 returned. Of the group, 15 were freshmen, nine were sophomores, 13 were juniors and two were seniors.

Dropout figures in recent years at MHS show 50 of 675 in 1962-63, 85 of 687 in 1963-64 and 38 of 722 in 1964-65. Reasons given for the dropouts included social adjustments, academic difficulty, illness, marriage, pregnancy, military service, work, discipline and unavailability of a baby sitter.

Of the current class of 126 seniors, 54 plan to attend college, 25 want to get office jobs, 15 plan to go into industry, 13 plan to attend business, trade or beauty schools, five plan to enter the armed forces, three will become housewives and three will enter unskilled work. Eight are undecided.

The school district employs 124 teachers and administrators, including 62.9% holding bachelor's degrees, 25% with master's degrees and 10.5% with master's degrees plus 30 more credit hours.

Only two teachers do not hold degrees, and one is to graduate from college this year. The other is a kindergarten teacher in the Project Uplift program.

The school district also employed 13 clerks, two attendance officers, one nurse, 15 cooks, 16 custodians and 18 aides.

MORE ABOUT Chouteau Village

ed at all costs. Of course, a Chouteau Village also would be governed by the election process, perhaps produce "village hall politicians."

A new element that has caused concern among zoning officials is the existence of price-protected and zoning-protected industrial sites which — it is hoped — would eventually be the location of plants offering job opportunities to keep pace with the rapid population growth in the Quad Cities and Madison county.

A new village could, if it so decided, alter the zoning pattern, permitting competing land usage that could render neighboring tracts less attractive for industrial development.

Limited Property Base
This prospect would appear to be a reason not to incorporate Chouteau, but proponents may seek to turn it into an inflation issue by speculating that some industrial growth will occur. Such growth, it might be argued, would alter the imbalance in taxable property, now heavily weighted toward the residential type.

Another assertion shaping up is that a village could discourage operation of Chouteau landfills to the west of the proposed territory. Madison county is blamed for being lax in policing such dumping operations as well as being unresponsive in providing general law enforcement and crime investigation.

Future Campus Cited
But the basic drive for Chouteau incorporation apparently will be the "gobbling up" fear, heightened by the as yet unsubstantiated assumption that a future junior high school campus near Maryville and Nantouk roads might become part of the city of Granite City through some sort of "leap frog" annexation process. It is doubtful that an isolated school site not otherwise connected could be used by a city to block creation of a municipality — now or later.

Willard Flagg, an Edwardsville civil engineer hired by the incorporators to map the proposed village, testified Dec. 5 that the village area is two miles from Hartford, a mile and a half or two miles from Ponton Beach and 1.1-mile from Granite City. He later admitted that Chouteau is much farther than this from Granite City, but said he took the Maryville-Namook intersection into account. State law requires that there must be at least a mile separating a new municipality from another municipality, unless one already in operation grants permission.

Village Growth
The one-mile limit applies at the time of incorporation. Once formed, a village would no longer be subject to the limit and could extend its boundaries if the conditions prescribed for annexation of land were met.

With Granite City Ponton Beach and Chouteau all expanding from time to time, there could be eventual rivalry for territory.

Direct and indirect growth thus could bring about contiguous municipalities, much like the present bulkhead Granite City-Madison-Venice area in which there is no visible separation other than small city boundary signs.

Here again, history would be repeating in the 1960s, or 1970s, 1800s what occurred over a longer period of time. Venice became a village in 1873 and a city in 1897, Madison incorporated as a village in 1891 and as a city in 1942 and Granite City began life as a city in 1886.

Bordering Municipalities
At such time as Granite City, Ponton and possibly Chouteau expand to the extent that they touch each other, the situation would be a repeat of the area between the first two world wars, when Granite City was bordered on the east by Namook.

Granite City had numerous industries, which gave it a high proportion of taxable property to population. Namook was a "bedroom community" with a growing number of families but little commercial or manufacturing property within its assessment base.

Despite this disadvantage, Namook had one big edge over Granite City — plentiful room to grow. Granite City was nearly surrounded and natural growth was stifled.

The solution proved to be a merger of the two, but it was a long struggle beset with many uncertainties.

Township Role Repeated
Entrenched Namook village officials did not want to give up their positions. Siding with them were Namook township officials, much like the Namook township board's present effort to discourage growth of the city of Granite City.

Residents loyal to the name and tradition of Namook did not want to see their community submerged and made a part of Granite City. Despite the merger attractions of lower taxes, more services and greater safeguarding of property value.

The wedding of the two first reached the election stage in September 1940, being approved in Granite City by a difference of 87 votes but being defeated in Namook by a 3-to-1 margin. Ratification by both was required, and the proposal lost.

In March 1949, Nameokians voted 862-663 to change from village to city government. Two months later Leroy Larsh was elected as the first — and what proved to be the last — mayor.

Larsh was not dependent on the mayor's office for his livelihood and took an objective view on the subsequent merger plan, concluding that it was best for Nameoki residents even though his position was to be eliminated.

Approved by Both Cities
By Oct. 25, 1949, advantages of consolidation had become obvious to most Namook voters and the proposal prevailed, 792 to 661. Foes urged retention of "freedom" and advocates pointed to the opportunity to get sewers, mail delivery, better fire insurance, better streets, improved court services, free library cards and increased police manpower.

Nov. 16, 1949, Granite City gave their approval, 1781 to 963, and merger became a reality.

Just as the plan carried in all but one of the four Nameoki wards, it won in all but one of 17 Granite City precincts. Namook, created principally to legalize and protect taverns but noted more in later years as attractive place to live, passed out of existence as a municipality but its name lived on as the designation for the eastern section of Granite City. Namook road now forms one of the busiest commercial streets in Granite City.

Namook township retains a separate identity, but all land absorbed by the city of Granite City becomes a part of Granite City township, which is co-extensive with the city.

There is no similar co-extensive relationship between the city and school district, although the school system has sought to obtain municipal services for some schools adjacent to the city limits.

Predictions Came True
The result of the Granite City-Namook merger has been largely that which was predicted for it by the proponents. Some room to grow has been provided for the combined municipality, subject to the Ponton and Chouteau competition. And there has been a wide range of taxable wealth with which to provide services to new neighborhoods.

The impact of coordinated governmental services went beyond the corporate limits, with the city attempting to encourage adequate standards in subdivisions built within a mile-and-a-half of the boundary.

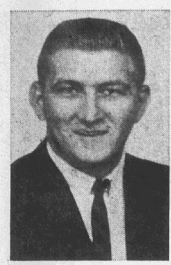

Though Ponton Beach has run up against some of the problems forecast for it, there has been no evidence of a widespread desire to merge the five-year-old village with Granite City or Madison.

What the future would hold for the Mitchell area if the village of Chouteau is created cannot be pinpointed with any precision, although it could not avoid encountering at least some of the financial limitations that have plagued Ponton Beach.

Which Path to Progress?
There are contrasting schools of thought on what is the most progressive path that a primarily residential settlement can follow.

One is that annexation to a comparatively large city is the ideal goal, and that this is easiest to achieve when there are no separate sets of officials and employees who might seek to defend their posts.

The other line of reasoning is that when annexation appears far off — it was described as "years away" at a public meeting in Chouteau township Dec. 3 — a small community needs to incorporate or to at least make a start toward obtaining fundamental municipal services.

This viewpoint holds that merger can always be considered when and if a bigger city finds itself able to make the offer, as happened with Namook after 32 years.

Can Remain Unincorporated
A third option, to remain unincorporated as a means of keeping both services and taxes at relatively low levels, also has extensive support.

Which course is followed will hinge on the Feb. 6 balloting, and those holding varying opinions are busy this month seeking to inform fellow residents of the issue as they see them.

This series also will attempt to provide pertinent facts on which to base a decision.

Miss Vicki Diane Lakin, Sp4 Kelly Hogan are Wed

Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary of St. John United Church of Christ for the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Vicki Diane Lakin and Specialist Fourth Class Kelly John Hogan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Lakin, 2533 State street. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hogan, reside at 3205 Wilshire drive.

Rev. Paul R. Surbey officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with urns of white gladiolus, carnations, pom poms and greenery. Family pews were marked with large white satin bows.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Kathleen Thompson, organist who accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Dolores Mount, an aunt of the bride. Vocal selections included "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

Mr. Lakin escorted his daughter down the white-carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She chose a floor length gown of Peau d' Ange lace re-embroidered with roses, over satin, designed in a cage effect with a slightly rounded neckline, and long traditional sleeves ending at the wrists in bridal points. A white satin bow emphasized the Empire waistline and rose motifs on the bodice were traced with tiny seed pearls.

A wattleau train of Peau d' Ange lace, attached at the shoulders with a satin bow, fell gently into a Cathedral train scalloped at the edges. Delicate scallops were repeated around the hemline of the bridal gown.

A forward cluster of lace rose petals, pearls and iridescent, loops, formed tiny roses, which held in place her triple tiered, shoulder-length bouffant veil of bridal illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid and long white velvet streamers.

Miss Sheila Shemwell was maid of honor, and Miss Debra Lakin, sister of the bride, Miss Cynthia Sue Hogan and Miss Maureen Hogan, both sisters of the groom, were bridesmaids.

They wore identical floor length gowns of pink chiffon and Burgandy velvet. Their bodices, fashioned on Empire lines, of Burgandy velvet, featured a demure scooped neckline and short sleeves. The A-line skirts, of pink chiffon were extended slightly. A flowing wattleau train, encircling the neckline and secured with Burgandy velvet bow at the shoulders, cascaded downward from a cape effect.

Their headpieces were of Burgandy velvet loops holding in place a noes tip bouffant veil in a matching color. A cascade of dark red and pink carnations, festooned with velvet streamers, formed the honor attendant's bouquet, while similar arrangements of dark red carnations were held by the bridesmaids.

MR. AND MRS. KELLY J. HOGAN, who were married Saturday evening, at St. John United Church of Christ. She is the former Miss Vicki Lakin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Lakin, 2533 State street.

Little Miss Shannon Bushue, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl and wore a white lace frock, styled to match that of the bride. Floor length, the dress had a slightly rounded neckline, short sleeves and a cascade of dark red and pink carnations, festooned with velvet streamers, formed the honor attendant's bouquet, while similar arrangements of dark red carnations were held by the bridesmaids.

Wally Fenton, a cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Mr. Hogan was attended by Gary Wilbur as best man. Larry Lakin, brother of the bride, Dan Mount, cousin of the bride, and Darren Geisler, a cousin of the groom were groomsmen. Edwin Bushue, brother-in-law of the groom and Emilie DaMote, the groom's uncle served as ushers and candlelighters.

Mrs. Lakin, mother of the bride, selected a multi-colored French lace dress, A-line style, with a rounded neckline and bell shape elbow-length sleeves. Her accessories were in a deep rose shade.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Hogan, chose a two-piece coat and dress ensemble of aqua blue and white accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

The former Miss Lakin was graduated from Granite City senior high school this month and has been a part-time employee of the Happy Day Nursery.

Mr. Hogan, a 1965 graduate of the local high school, was employed as an apprentice plumber prior to his enlistment in the U. S. Army in March of 1966. Earlier this month, he returned home from Vietnam, where he served 12 months. He will report for duty on Feb. 15 at Fort Bragg, N. C., where he expects to be stationed until completing his last year in service. The newly-married couple will reside in Fayetteville, N. C.

A reception for wedding guests immediately followed the ceremony at the American Legion Hall, 24th street and Madison avenue.

Members of the wedding party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner given Friday evening by the groom's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Geisler and Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Foltus, at the latter's home, 26 Bermuda lane.

A bouffant veil of silk tulle was secured by a crown embellished with pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolus.

Miss Angela Bond of Overland, Mo., the maid of honor, was attired in a turquoise chiffon over tulle designed with an Empire waistline and a floor length train cascading from the shoulders. She carried an arrangement of white gladiolus tipped in turquoise.

Mr. Moore chose Jack D. Rainey as his best man, while Larry Lakin and Allen Kennerly served as ushers.

Wedding guests were entertained at a reception held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

12 Local Youths Report for Draft

Twelve Quad-City area youths were drafted Friday, the same day 78 others appeared for pre-induction physical examinations.

The youths reporting for induction to the county selective service office in Edwardsville were Douglas Earl Pascoe, Glen Ray Cockrum, Stephen George Lelik, John Frank Sabo Jr., Gerald Frederick Rock, Arthur Raymond Snelson, Clifford Theodore Yarbrough Jr. and James Tilden Beasley, all of Granite City, and James Leslie Nelson, Edward Powers, Don Lee Nowicki and Herbert Edward Sadler Jr., all of Madison.

From Edwardsville, the two groups went to the Army examination center in St. Louis. Coffee, milk, rolls and dirty bags were supplied to the induction group by the Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross.

Next month, 11 local youths are to be drafted on Feb. 16. There is no quota for pre-induction physical exams.

Missouri House Group Rejects Bus Subsidy

A $300,000 subsidy for the Bi-State Transit System sought in the current special session of the Missouri Legislature has been rejected by the House Appropriations Committee, it was reported Friday.

The House committee's action came as Bi-State Transit officials appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committee to seek support of the measure which failed to clear the General Assembly in its 1967 session.

The subsidy requested in the special session would be for one year, with another $300,000 to be appropriated later, for a total subsidy of $600,000. The Illinois General Assembly approved a two-year subsidy of $400,000 last summer, but its allotment to the transit system was contingent upon a similar payment of at least $600,000 by the state of Missouri.

The transit system wants the funds to qualify for federal funds that could range as high as $2 million.

Members of the Senate committee are reported more receptive to the proposal than the House committee and there appears a probability an effort will be made to restore the item when appropriations are reported to the Assembly floor.

School Credit Union To Meet in Madison

The Madison School District 12 Federal Credit Union will hold its sixth annual meeting at 4 p.m. today at the junior high school.

Directors and committees will present reports, and directors and officers will be elected for 1968.

The credit union has more than $70,000 in shares and almost 200 members, with more than 100 members using the payroll deduction plan.

Current officers and directors are George Hopkins, president; Ben Honorable, vice-president; Mrs. Addie Darden, secretary; Bob Page, treasurer; Mrs. Joyce McDonald, assistant treasurer; Joseph Asperger, Mrs. Irene Cook and Mrs. Willie Watts.

PTA Council to Hear Vision-Reading Report

Dr. Benjamin T. Rose, a local optometrist, and Miss Myrtle Blades, a coordinator and instructor in the Granite City school system's Title I special education program, will join forces Thursday evening to present a report on the problems of "Vision and Remedial Reading."

They will appear at the bi-monthly meeting of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs at 7:30 p.m. in Niedringhaus school. Mrs. Pat Polley, council president, today invited all interested parents to attend, especially those whose youngsters are having reading difficulties or visual problems.

Unit PTA presidents also are urged to submit the names and resumes of candidates for the council's "Outstanding PTA Award" at Thursday night's meeting.

Trojans Win over Bethalto 74-73 - Move into Midwestern Tie

Madison high school's Trojan basketball team won a one-point Midwestern Conference battle Friday night against Bethalto 74-73 at the Bethalto gym and went into a first place tie with Cahokia.

The Trojans now are 4-1 in conference action and 11-2 for the year.

"It wasn't really too much of a defensive game, as the score indicates, but without the rebounding of Joe Collins, Tom Weston and Mike Harper, we would have been in trouble," Trojan coach John Logan, commented.

Collins and Weston had nine rebounds and Harper tallied eight.

The Trojans hit the basket for 33%, while the Bethalto Eagles racked up 43%. Gary Lusk made 14 of 22 shots from the field, but had trouble in his free throws. He hit five and missed six, piling up 33 points for the night.

"Gary carried us through the last quarter. He made 17 of our 22 points. Collins helped a great deal in the first and third quarters as he got eight in both," coach Logan said.

With 30 seconds left in the last quarter, Lusk scored a basket but committed an offensive foul. Madison had a two-point lead, but in a minor disagreement the player fouled didn't take the shots. Dave Taylor, who had made 15 of 16 free throws for the night, stepped up and took the shots. He made the first, but then missed, as the ball went around the hoop and rolled out.

Lincoln Upsets Venice-- Breaks 10-Game Streak

A ten-game winning streak ended by the Venice high school Red Devil basketball team came to an abrupt halt Friday night in an upset by Lincoln of East St. Louis, 64-52, at the Venice gym.

The Lincoln team, towering over the Red Devils an average of three inches per man, snuffed the efforts of Venice's defensive game.

Dribbling through the Red Devils posed little challenge to the towering Lincoln squad. Lincoln shot 47% from the field, with most of the shots close jump shots or layups or tip-ins from an outside attempt.

Warrior Kickers Top St. Henry 2-1

The Granite City high school Warrior soccer team won its second match of the year Thursday afternoon, beating St. Henry's Prep of Belleville 2-1 on the local field.

Conditions were rough as the turf was slippery with ice in places and a large crowd had formed in the middle.

The slipping, sliding players were down on the ground all most as much as they were up, but were able to pursue the ball more than at any other time this year and seemed to catch St. Henry's unprepared.

John Winfield scored the first goal in the first half in less than five minutes.

The Warriors were in St. Henry's territory most of the time.

The only time that St. Henry got deep into Warrior land for any length of time was late in the second half when Mike Kroher netted a high hard outside shot. The ball went soaring over the head of GC goalie Dan Hodge.

The next Warrior match will be at 4 o'clock this afternoon at University City. The Warriors now have a 2-5 season with one remaining home game.

Bank-A-Label Savings Plan at Schermer Bros.

Schermer Brothers supermarket, 12th street and Madison avenue, Madison, today announced a "Bank-A-Label" program under which customers will be offered a $3 cash reward for buying 41 food and household products from leading manufacturers.

Replacing conventional coupon plans, Bank-A-Label enables over 70% of the manufacturers' expenditures to go to consumers, rather than the bulk of such costs going to printing, addressing, postage and misredemption.

A booklet of 16 pages with cover shows, in black and white, parts of labels or other product identifications removable from the products purchased. Customers buy the products shown and fasten the actual labels in the booklet, exchanging it for $3 cash when filled.

All products shown can be used by any size or makeup of household unit without hardship, it was explained. Since many homes do not include infants or pets nor have diet problems, there are no infant, pet or diet foods shown. Neither are there cosmetics, razor blades, tobacco or other products used exclusively by men or women.

Total retail cost of the products shown is less than $16, and consumers will have until May 31 to fill the books and redeem them at Schermer's for the $3 reward.

A spokesman noted that "the Bank-A-Label books are worth many times more than conventional stamp saving devices. The convenience in cashing them in for the 41 products is another big advantage."

Madison Has Seven Accidents in 16 Hours

Charles M. Hacke, USN,
At Davisville, R.I.

Steelworker Construction apprentice Charles M. Hacke, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hacke of 26 River drive, has reported for duty with U.S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 71 at Davisville, R.I.

His battalion recently returned from its first overseas deployment and is undergoing a six-month retraining period before redeploying this spring. Training will include schools in naval construction skills and military training at Camp Fortary, R.I. and Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The Madison police department, after going through last week's heavy snow, freezing rain and icing conditions with only a few minor accidents, marked up seven traffic mishaps in a 16-hour period late Thursday and early Friday morning. It was one of the heaviest series of traffic mishaps in Madison in such a short period in many months.

Only one person was injured in the mishaps that started at 4 p.m. Thursday when minor damage was caused to cars driven by James W. Danz, Belleville, and Thomas R. Pickard, Virden, Ill., at Third street and McCambridge avenue. Police reported Pickard had stopped and was waiting to make a left turn from Third street into McCambridge when his car rolled back into the Danz auto.

A car driven by Calvin C. Bosworth, 623 Lincoln street, Venice, and a pickup truck driven by Nick Sasyk, 1429 Madison avenue, Madison, were damaged at 9:20 p.m. when they sideswiped in the 1200 block of Madison avenue. Police reported the accident occurred as Sasyk pulled out of a parking space as Bosworth's car was headed south on Madison avenue. Bosworth's car was damaged on the right side and the pickup truck in the left front end.

Parked Truck Hit

At 9:45 p.m., a truck owned by Gerald W. Magee, Portersville, Pa., and parked in the 100 block of State street was damaged slightly when struck from the rear by a car driven by Dale W. Fortner, 1307 Second street, Madison. Fortner told police he was headed north on State street and was forced over by an oncoming auto, causing him to hit the truck.

Walter Portell, 44, of 2021 Hildebrand avenue, Madison, was the only person injured in the entire series of mishaps, and the only driver arrested. He was ticketed for careless driving following a collision with a parked car at 1222 Grand avenue, Madison, at 10:20 p.m. Thursday. Police said he suffered minor injuries.

Portell told Madison police he was driving north on Grand when his car skidded on ice pavement and struck the parked car of Andrew Hartman, 1222 Grand avenue, Madison.

The next accident was reported at 4:15 a.m. Friday when a car driven by Guy Milan, 3008 East 22nd street, backed into the parked car of Edmond Reed, Wood River, on the parking lot at Ralph & Charles in Madison.

Had Earlier Mishap

According to Granite City police, Milan's car was damaged earlier in an accident on Edwardsville road near Namooki road at 10:20 p.m. Thursday, as Milan was driving off the blast furnace parking lot. Two persons were injured in the Granite City mishap.

Billie K. Hampton of Granite City from Sara Mae Hampton of East St. Louis. They were married March 14, 1962, and separated Sept. 9, 1967. Mental cruelty was charged. Her maiden name of Billie K. Schell was restored.

Velma P. Knuckles from Bobby D. Knuckles, both of Granite City. They were married June 6, 1966, and separated May 21, 1967. Cruelty was charged. Custody of four children was given to the mother, and the father was ordered to pay $160 per month child support.

County Police Meet, Tour U. S. Army Depot

About 180 persons attended the luncheon meeting of the Madison County Police Association Thursday at the Granite City Army Depot.

Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, depot commander who served as host, spoke on the operations of the depot. A bus tour of the facility was taken later.

Raymond Willard of Granite City, association president, called attention to the scheduled departure on Saturday of Floyd Jeff, who retired recently as assistant chief of police of the Granite City department. He was given a standing ovation.

Among guests were Mayor Partney and county Coroner Leonard Davis.

$20,000 Accident Suit

A suit for $20,000 was filed last week in circuit court at Edwardsville for Philip Clements, 19, a minor, by his mother, Zella Clements, against Charles Ellsworth as the result of an auto accident on Jan. 4 at 22nd and Iowa streets. Jaycees to Name DSA Winner At Banquet on Wednesday

"Jaycee Week," the anniversary observance of the U.S. Jaycee organization, began yesterday and will continue until Sunday in Granite City and throughout the nation, James Jeffries, local Jaycee president announced today.

The week's events will be highlighted with presentation of a Distinguished Service Award to Granite City's most outstanding young man who has made significant contributions in his leadership and service in the community.

The DSA winner and a local person named as the "Outstanding Young Educator," will be announced at the annual Jaycee banquet, to be held in the Rose Bowl restaurant at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jeffries said.

The banquet also features the annual "Bosses' Night" program, an event observed by all Jaycee chapters throughout the U. S., honoring bosses of Jaycee members who support the aims of their Jaycee employees.

While candidates for DSA and OYE honors are nominated by local groups and individuals, nominees for the "Boss of the Year" award are contributed and voted by Jaycee members only.

The employer selected for the honor will be presented a special certificate at Wednesday's banquet, which will feature an address by Illinois Representative Clyde L. Chaste, (D), 59th District, minority whip of the Illinois House and winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor in World War II.

During Jaycee Week observances here, the U. S. Jaycees

Study Ordinance On Legal Costs In Police Cases

Preliminary discussion of a city ordinance that would assess additional costs against defendants in police cases that require services of the city attorney during court hearings was held by the Venice City council in regular meeting Friday night.

No action was taken on the proposed bill pending a further study by council members and City Attorney Harry Hartman, who suggested the measure as a possible means of meeting attorney costs resulting from a growing volume of hearings in magistrate courts.

Hartman said the city of Belleville enacted such an ordinance providing the assessment of $5 against defendants who go into court for hearings at which the city must be represented. He said this is a low figure and that he would recommend an assessment of about $15.

He pointed out that many defendants in police cases who are ordered to appear in court at first enter pleas of not guilty and hearings are scheduled. This requires the city attorney to prepare evidence in the case and to be on hand at the hearing when it is called. In nine cases out of ten, Hartman said, the defendant will change his plea to guilty and pay a fine.

Waste of Time

"This is a waste of a lot of time," Hartman said, "adding that the number of magistrate cases is increasing constantly. While this means more fines and fees for the city, it also means that the cost of legal fees must increase. That cost should be borne by the defendant," Hartman said.

The council gave final passage to an ordinance establishing stop signs on Third street at Kier street. Signs are to be placed on the northwest and southeast corners regulating north and south traffic on Third street.

Payment of a claim for $7333 for Sheppard, Mofa and a Schwab engineering firm for work on plans for the Broadway underpass was approved. The payment brings to $20,000 the total amount paid on engineering fees for the underpass project that are expected to total about $80,000, including inspection costs, by the time the job is done. The engineering cost is being paid out of the McKinley bridge replacement and improvement fund.

Union Blames Smith Co. for Contract Delay

Boilermakers Union Local 575 whose 1300 members are on strike at the A. O. Smith Corp., plant charged in a prepared statement Friday that the company has prevented negotiation of a new contract by "total rejection of all proposals."

The statement came from Clarence Warfield, president and chairman of the union, following a company statement last week that a permanent loss of jobs may result from the current shutdown of plant operations caused by the strike. The plant manufactures auto frames for General Motors which, the company said, has taken the business elsewhere.

The strike went into its 22nd day this morning. Boilermakers employees walked off their jobs at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 1 upon expiration of their old contract.

A negotiation session, the second since the strike began, is scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday with federal mediators in St. Louis.

Text of Statement
"On Jan. 1, Boilermakers local 575 AFL-CIO engaged in a strike at the A. O. Smith plant in Granite City, upon the expiration of its collective bargaining agreement. The 1300 members of the union are refusing to continue working without a contract.

The union requested negotiations on Sept. 1, 1967. A. O. Smith refused to meet until November 1967. The company did not present detailed proposals to the union until December 1967, shortly before contract expiration. The company's proposals are all directed to eliminating rights of employees which have been contained in prior agreements. The negotiations to date have resulted in the union trying to hold on to working conditions already established while the company has sought to hinder working conditions. The proposals of the union for contract improvements have been given no consideration by the company other than total rejection.

Delayed Agreement
"The company delayed the possibility of reaching agreement by demanding that an employee who leaves a production job for drinking water or to go to the toilet must clock out and be docked pay until he clocks in again, except during a 15-minute period in the first half and second half of his eight-hour shift.

"A. O. Smith negotiators have proposed elimination of seniority rights of employees which have been incorporated in contracts with the union in existence and agreed upon for the past 12 years. The company's proposal to eliminate seniority rights affects promotion, transfer and job security of the entire union membership.

"The company has demanded elimination of the cost-of-living clause from any new agreement reached, despite the fact that such clause has been incorporated in collective bargaining agreements with the union for the past 10 years, and despite the fact that inflation and price increases predicted for 1968 will substantially undermine the purchasing power of the hourly wage rate.

"The company has proposed revision of the contractual grievance procedure which would deny employees in many instances the right and opportunity to obtain correction of abusive and arbitrary action by supervisors which infringe upon their contractual guarantees.

Salted Workers Views
"The company instituted a telephone answering and recording system soliciting employees to call in and to obtain the company's views and to express their opinions on contract negotiations. The company's program was aimed at undermining the union's negotiating committee and to divide the employees. Upon objection of the union, the company agreed to cease its telephone propaganda and did so for a short time. Violation of its agreement with Boilermakers International Union and Local 575, the company has reintroduced the telephone answering and recording system.

"Boilermakers Local 575 has received assistance from its International Union and from other unions in the area as well as from residents and businesses several aircraft were burning and others were threatened.

LT. Cmdr. Sheppard's role in fighting the blaze is described by the citation, which accompanied the medal with distinction.

It reads, in part: "Although injured by a collapsing helicopter, LT. Cmdr. Sheppard steadfastly maintained firm leadership and control of his fire party, directing and re-adjusting them in order to concentrate on the most valuable damage."

Damage Is Limited
"As a direct result of LT. Cmdr. Sheppard's actions in fighting the fire, which lasted over four hours, damage was significantly limited in an attack that threatened destruction of the entire flight line.

Wallace Gets 10-Month Term for 2 Dismemeanors

Shelby Wallace of Granite City, who was acquitted of a murder charge last Monday night by a Madison county jury, was sentenced to 10 months in prison on two misdemeanor charges Friday evening by Magistrate William Johnson in the courtroom at Edwardsville.

Wallace had been found guilty of illegal possession of narcotic equipment, a hypodermic needle and related items, and with resisting arrest, but had jumped bail rather than appear voluntarily before Judge Johnson for sentencing.

The misdemeanor case was revived after his arrest in connection with the fatal shooting of Terry Thwaitt Jr., 17, of Granite City, early in the morning of Oct. 1 outside the Full Moon tavern on Route 111.

Previous sentencing was deferred last October pending disposition of the murder case.

Wallace was sentenced to 10-month sentences, on each charge to run concurrently and is to be confined at the state prison farm at Vandalia.

Public defender Robert Trone, who successfully handled Wallace's defense in the murder trial, indicated he would file new motions in continued effort to get the state to drop the writ of habeas corpus would be required to return Wallace to the circuit court here from Vandalia.

There was no immediate indication as to when new motions would be filed in the magistrate division of circuit court.

Meanwhile, a member of the staff of State's Atty. Leon Scroggins, who did not assist in the courtroom prosecution of the case, complained of a lack of cooperation and communications between his office and is to be confined at the state prison farm at Vandalia.

Wear Combat Person
River Patrol personnel considered among U. S. Armed Forces in Vietnam, emphasize their wear of green combat fatigues.

Navy blue duffel bags would stand out on the river—often flashing black berets—custom adopted from the Vietnam sailors who man the country's fighting junks, as for the most part are bearded or flaunt large mustaches.

On their berets, they wear the unit flash, a yellow and red delta-shaped device with words Tuan Giang, which translated means "River Force," their style, bearing and talents often classify River Patrolmen as successors to the famed black beret traditions of world war II.

LT. Cmdr. Sheppard is married to the former Donna L. Lockwood of Brawley, Calif. They have four children, D'Wayne, 15 years, Dianna, 13, Daniel, 12, and Debra, eight years.

Marriage License

A marriage license has been issued in Belleville to Marvin Rose Granite City and Mrs. Virginia R. Elge of Belleville.

In the Tri-City area. The members of the union are united in their intention to retain their contractual rights and to achieve a new contract."

Has No Comment
In response to the union statement, Paul Kelly, personnel manager at A. O. Smith, said: "A. O. Smith prefers to make no comment concerning the statement of Boilermakers Local 575 except to say that the statement is distorted and inaccurate."

"The company feels that the issues which affect our employees should be discussed in good faith in collective bargaining."

"To make them the subject of claims and counter-claims would greatly hamper our effort to reach an agreement with the union at the earliest possible time."

Dialing Direct?

618 CALLS ARE QUICKER NOW

You now dial Long Distance and charge as your own—618—without dialing the Area Code. This means on charge calls, you reach any telephone in the unshaded area of the map simply by dialing the digit "1" (Long Distance station-to-station code) and the telephone number... three fewer spins of the dial than before.

The equipment will no longer be able to complete your call if you include the 618 Area Code in your dialing.

REMEMBER: To make a station-to-station Long Distance or charge call to a telephone within your own 618 area, simply dial the digit "1" and the telephone number.

For station-to-station Long Distance or charge calls to all other areas, dial the digit "1," then the Area Code and telephone number.

If your telephone is equipped for Expanded Direct Distance Dialing service you may dial your own person-to-person, collect and credit card calls. Dial the digit "0" instead of "1" and then the telephone number if you are calling a number within the 618 area. For person-to-person, collect or credit card calls to numbers with a different Area Code than 618, dial the digit "0," then the Area Code and the telephone number.

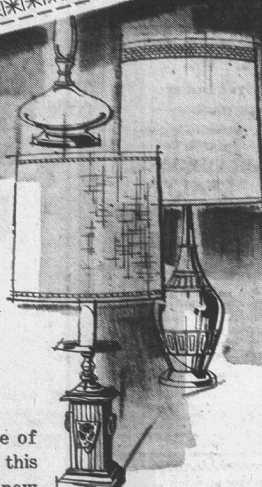

You'll find complete information on dialing charge calls and a list of many cities and their Area Code in the front pages of your October telephone directory.

MORE ABOUT Madison Board

office of the state superintendent of public instruction.

Thomas told the board that the program will cost money, but it will give more students an education.

The plans call for use of 18 1/2 teachers as Madison's share in the program, but the district already has several in the special education field and the full number probably would not be reached, he said.

The plans call for use of four school psychologists, but availability of such personnel is limited and two would be needed immediately, Thomas continued. They would conduct psychological testing of some students at a cost of $70 to $90 per child but could be of greater advantage in assisting teachers and parents, he said.

They also could help children with learning difficulties, some of whom eventually drop out of school now, Thomas said.

Raymond Dragich, superintendent, recommended that the plan be discussed at a meeting of school authorities from the Granite City, Madison and Venice districts.

Expulsion Suit
John Gitchoff, school attorney, told the board he hoped to have an answer presented to the circuit court today on a mandamus suit on file against the board involving expulsion of a Madison high school student, with the possibility of a hearing this week.

Gitchoff expressed confidence that actions of the board would be upheld by the court.

About 15 supervisors and educators from the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, led by Harry McPhail, Area V director, will visit Madison schools, study the district's educational program and present recommendations to the board on Feb. 6, 7 and 8.

The last visit was held in 1964, and Sup. Dragich reported that recommendations then were fulfilled with the exception of replacement of the junior high school.

TB Skin Testing

The annual tuberculin skin testing program for students in grades one, five and nine and for all school personnel will be held Feb. 20, Dragich reported. Tests will be read Feb. 23, and a mobile x-ray unit will be on hand from 1 to 4 p.m. March 13 at the high school for those showing positive reactions.

Gitchoff was authorized to execute a contract for deed in the purchase of property adjacent to Dunbar school, owned by Charles Ragsdale.

It was reported that 40 boys and girls received dental care through the visit of the state mobile dental unit arranged by Miss Nina Dittman, school nurse, who hopes to have a return visit to the district next year.

Of the caseload, five students came from Harris school, four each from Blair school and Madison junior high school, 13 from Louis Baer and Dunbar schools and one from Madison high school.

Conduct Teacher Workshops
Permission was granted for the Scott-Foreman Co. to conduct workshops in language arts and science for all elementary and junior high teachers Jan. 22 and 23. Schools will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. both days.

Charles J. McCaskill, mathematics coordinator, was authorized to attend a meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics Feb. 22, 23 and 24 at Chicago.

A school treasurer's report showed cash balances of $27,164 in the educational fund, including investments of $20,000; a school lunch deficit of $2084; $100,902 in the building fund, including $100,000 investments; and $45,906 in the bonds and interest fund for a total of $459,888.

The board approved December educational salaries of $158,389 and lunch salaries of $5013, including withholding, and December bills of $10,810 from the educational fund, $6308 from the building fund and $4548 from the lunch fund.

In loving memory of EUGENE
KEEL, who departed this life three years ago, January 23, think you could not say good-eyes. The blow was hard, the shock severe. We never thought your death so near. But only those who can tell the pain of parting without farewell. And God only knows how much we
